If the request concerns the appointment of directors, the request will also include information about the name, domicile and professional qualifications of the persons proposed.

b) To present draft resolutions for the items included or proposed to be included on the agenda of the GSM.

A significant shareholder has the right to request to add on the agenda of a GSM an item regarding the election of the members of the board of directors by applying the method of cumulative voting. After receiving the message accepting participation in the GSM, shareholders can log in to the Platform, thus being able to vote on the items on the agenda online before the date of the General Shareholders' Meetings, and can also participate and vote live during the General Shareholders' Meetings (via the Platform, remotely or even if they are present in the room). The cumulated vote

The cumulative vote method may be used for the election of the entire board of directors.

The directors in function at the date of the GSM are included in the list of candidates for the new board of directors.

The number of cumulated votes of a shareholder is determined by multiplying the votes held by the concerned shareholder with the number of the Directors mentioned in the Articles of incorporation.

When exercising the cumulated vote, the shareholders may give all the cumulated votes to only one candidate or to several candidates. Next to each candidate, the shareholders must mention the given number of votes.

The number of cumulated votes which each shareholder is entitled to is mentioned in a form received upon entering into the room or sent to the shareholder at his request, if he wishes to vote by correspondence, and will be attached to the final voting form.

The number of votes expressed by a shareholder on the voting form cannot be bigger than the number of the cumulated votes of that shareholder, under the sanction of annulling the voting form.

If the number of votes expressed by a shareholder is lower than the number of cumulated votes to which the shareholder is entitled, the votes expressed shall be considered valid and the Technical Secretariat shall cancel the remaining votes.

In the event that the shareholder fails to specify the cumulative votes allocated to each candidate, the cumulative votes of that shareholder will be distributed equally by the Technical Secretariat to the candidates for which the shareholder checked or mentioned "for".

If the shareholder has not checked or mentioned "for" any candidate, the voting form will be canceled by the Technical Secretariat.

The conditions for the validity of the expressed votes:

1. For each item on the agenda for which a secret vote is necessary, the vote is expressed by checking on the form an "X" for a single option out of: "For" or "Against" or "Abstain".
2. The votes expressed for a item on the agenda will be annulled for procedural deficiencies in the following situations:
 - 2.1. They contain contradictory or confusing options (E.g.: several options of votes for the same item on the agenda, more options than the number of proposed candidates, no option expressed, etc.);
 - 2.2. They are illegible;
 - 2.3. They are introduced into the voting box without having a checked option;
 - 2.4. They are expressed conditionally;
 - 2.5. Unused voting forms that have been received by the shareholders present in the room;
 - 2.6. Votes by correspondence not submitted in the original or without extended electronic signature;
 - 2.7. Votes by correspondence that are not signed ;
 - 2.8. Votes by correspondence that are not accompanied by copies of the documents mentioned in the present Procedure and in the Calling of the GSM;
For the forms used for voting by correspondence, the expressed votes, annulled because of procedural errors, are taken into consideration for determining the quorum.
 - 2.9. In the case of cumulated voting, if the number of votes expressed by a shareholder on the voting form is greater than the number of cumulated votes of that shareholder.
 - 2.10. When applying the cumulated vote, if the number of votes expressed by a shareholder on the voting form is smaller than the number of cumulated votes of that shareholder, the number of votes that have been expressed will be taken into account, and the remaining votes will be canceled.
3. The special power of attorney forms and the forms used for voting by correspondence that don't have identification elements of the shareholder and/or that aren't signed are null and void.
4. The shareholders who voted by special power of attorney, by correspondence or online may change their initial vote or method of vote, being considered valid the latest vote expressed during the time that have been mentioned on the Calling of the GSM or specified by the Chairman of the Board of Directors/Chairman of the meeting for the shareholders that are voting online.

5. The direct participation of the shareholder at the general meeting removes any other voting options previously sent.
6. BRD's Directors that are also shareholders of the Bank cannot vote, neither personally, nor by power of attorney, the points on the agenda referred to their discharge, or a matter in which their person or management would be in question, the remuneration policy and the remuneration due to directors or their nomination/revocation.
7. A shareholder who, in a certain operation has either personally, or as a power of attorney of another person, an interest contrary to BRD, must abstain from deliberations on that operation.

Centralizing the votes

In the case of shareholders who choose to vote live during General Meetings of Shareholders, the time allocated to voting for each item on the agenda will be communicated by the Chairman of the Board of Directors/Chairman of the meeting, as may be, at the beginning of the General Meeting of Shareholders.

After the expiry of the allocated time for the vote of each item on the agenda, the secretariat collects the votes from the meeting room and centralizes them with the online and correspondence votes, setting out for each resolution the number of shares for which valid votes were cast, out of each "for" and "against", where the case may be, the number of abstentions and canceled votes and also the proportion of the share capital represented by those votes.

When applying the cumulated voting method, the persons who obtained the greatest number of cumulated votes in the GSM are declared elected as members of the Board of Directors.

When two or more persons proposed to be elected obtain the same number of cumulated votes, it is declared elected as member of the Board of Directors the person who was voted by a bigger number of shareholders.

When two or more persons proposed to be elected as members of the Board of Directors obtain the same number of cumulated votes, and the votes have been expressed by the same number of shareholders, it is declared elected as a member of the Board of Directors the person who meets the independence criteria and, if none of the candidates is independent, it will be elected the candidate who meets the criteria established by GSM for choosing the Board members.

The Directors who are in charge at the GSM and aren't reappointed by cumulated vote in the new Board of Directors shall be deemed revoked, their mandate consequently being ceased starting with the GSM data.
